Waveland Students In Who's Who

Randall Tartavouille and Emily Mollere, Bay Senior High School students, have been recently notified that they are to be featured in the Seventh Annual Edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students of 1972-73, one of the largest student award publications in the nation.

Randall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Tartavouille of Waveland. He is active in French Club, Latin Club and the school newspaper. He has also attended Boys' State.

Randall plans to attend Pearl River Junior College upon graduation in June and later the University of Southern Mississippi.

Emily Mollere is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Mollere, Jr. of Waveland. The young student has been selected as a member of the National Honor Society, is a member of the Science Club and attended the American Legion Girls' State this year.

She reigned as Colleen over the 1973 St. Patrick's Day parade, and was selected for the honor by the Waveland Civic Assn. as having the highest scholastic average in Waveland.

Emily plans to attend the University of Southern Miss. to study medical technology.

In addition to having their biographies published in the book, the two honor students will compete for one of ten $1,000 scholarship awards funded by the publishers and will be invited to participate in the firm's annual "Survey of High Achievers" later in the academic year.

What Ray Bordages described as "the worst fish kill I've ever seen" hit Hancock County waters this week, centered primarily around inland bayous.

The mysterious fish kill, which has destroyed many thousands of fish and crabs, apparently began Monday when local fishermen noticed increasing numbers of dead fish floating in the sluggish bayous.

By Monday night and Tuesday morning, banks were thick with bodies of bloated fish, eels and other marine life. Crabs at first feasting on the unexpected wealth of forage, were by Wednesday morning forsaking the tainted food and were seen crawling in large numbers onto the banks and boat launches, attempting to get out of the water.

Bordages, who for years has operated a fishing camp and boat dock situated on Bayou Caddy a short distance from the Sound, said Wednesday that although a fish kill occurs every few years in these waters, this is the worst he remembers ever seeing. The resultant stench from the dead and decaying fish has added to the problem.

Puzzled as to the reason for the occurrence, Bordages offered as possible causes recent heavy rainfall followed by a lack of wind which inundated salt water tributaries with an excess of fresh water. Another possible answer, he opined was the introduction of some toxic sediment or refuse from marshlands into the bayous.

In a Wednesday morning interview Charles H. Lyles, fisheries statistician with the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs, supported Bordages' thoughts on the matter.

Fish kills are relatively common on the Gulf Coast, Lyles stated, and have been occurring for many years. Although he could not express an official opinion on the Bayou Caddy kill without factual data derived from scientific study, Lyles said such kills, called jubilees by old-timers in the area, are generally a result of either "our environmental destruction" or simple oxygen depletion "caused by an excessive amount of recent rainfall."

A fish kill of this magnitude can be attributable to toxic substances from what Lyles termed "indiscriminate dumping of garbage on the coast." Studies are constantly being made of such phenomena by marine scientists at the research lab, Lyles concluded, in an effort toward some measure of control over future endangering of natural resources.

Meanwhile, local fishermen were sitting on the banks at various favorite fishing and crabbing spots, wary of harvesting any seafood which had died of questionable causes. One Waveland resident, packing up dry crabnets on the seawall about 8 a.m. expressed the consensus of local commercial and sports fishermen when he said, "I think I'll just wait 'til it all blows over."

Agnes Wilkerson, 18, is the first recipient of the scholarship, which the Bay St. Louis unit recently established. Miss Wilkerson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilkerson, 201 Bay Oaks Drive. Her father is a member of the sponsoring post. She is a graduate of Bay Senior High School, is majoring in political science, and has pledged Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority at USM.

Hospital-Public Meeting Set

An appeal to the public for understanding of the hospital's problems as well as support in efforts to maintain the county's only medical facility will be made by Hancock General Hospital administrators at a public meeting tonight, 7:30 p.m. at the Coast Electric Auditorium.

An invitation is extended to all interested persons to attend this important meeting for first hand information on the current situation in the medical field.

Biloxi Youths Fined For Dope Charges

Fines and suspended sentences were imposed Tuesday night on six Biloxi teenagers arrested near Waveland Sept. 8 on narcotics violations.

In the Tuesday hearing, Justice of the Peace Joseph Dobson heard testimony from each of the young adults, arrested on Highway 90 at 4:30 a.m. as they were returning to Biloxi from New Orleans. Sheriff's Deputy Robert Tartavouille stopped the Chevrolet automobile the group was riding in near the Harbor Inn and placed the driver, William Lono, 18, under arrest for driving while intoxicated, no tail lights on the vehicle and no brake tag. A search of the car and occupants revealed a small quantity of marijuana seeds and a package of cigarette papers. In the hearing, Tartavouille testified that he saw one of the youths throw an article out of the window of the car which the deputy retrieved and found to be the seeds.

Placed under arrest and booked at Hancock County jail for possession of marijuana and possession of paraphernalia, were, besides Lono, Ernest Thibodeaux, Louis Ponson, Jody Broussard, Eugene Lee, and Radle Keibel. All are 18-years-old except Keibel who is 19.

Each of the six was fined $150 and sentenced to three months in jail, suspended, on each of the two narcotics violations. In addition, Lono was fined $20 for no tail lights. Because he is presently attending a Manpower Training School in Biloxi, Judge Dobson reduced the DWI charge to DUI enabling the defendant to continue his schooling, Dobson said. Lono was fined $100 for DUI charge.

Assisting Tartavouille were Deputy Leo Woods, Waveland-Patrolmen Eugene Hughes and Donald Dorn and state Highway Safety Patrolman Clyde Hester.

A bid for more business and less social activity for the Coast Municipal Officers Association was made at a Monday night dinner meeting in Bay St. Louis.

The city of Bay St. Louis hosted the Monday affair at which officers were installed for the coming year. Assuming office as association president was Long Beach Alderman Sam Maxwell, and other officers included Bay St. Louis Commissioner Lucien Kidd, first vice-president; Ocean Springs Alderman Joe Garrard, second vice-president; and Waveland City Clerk Barbara Rappold, secretary-treasurer.

The association covers municipal officials from Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties and every coast city in the three-county area was represented with the exception of Biloxi and Pascagoula.

Special guests attending and introduced by host Mayor Warren Carver were State Senator Martin Smith and Mrs. Harold Kranke, mother of Pass Christian Mayor Steve Saucier.

In an open discussion session following the dinner, Mayor Saucier expressed the desire for a restructuring of association meetings to include discussion of business matters "that would be mutually beneficial" to each coast municipality. His suggestion for a change to monthly business meetings and quarterly social affairs led to expressed concurrence by a number of members present.

Mayor Carver said he felt the change would promote as much good will among municipal officers as the strictly social gatherings had and offered a suggestion that a committee be formed to compile a questionnaire, polling members' opinions on Saucier's request.

Commissioner Kidd added the suggestion that guest speakers be invited to the business meetings, with emphasis on federal agency representatives who could provide accurate information on current funding possibilities.

Waveland Alderman Dan Campion's motion for formation of a committee and issuance of the questionnaire was accepted and Maxwell named the committee on the spot. Appointed to prepare the form were Commissioner Kidd, Miss Rappold and Mayor Saucier.

The next meeting set for Oct. 8 will be hosted by the city of Waveland at Haverly's Restaurant.

Mitchell Waives Hearing On Manslaughter Charge

Gene Mitchell, 35, Bay St. Louis contractor charged with manslaughter in the death of 16-year-old Gregory Singleton as a result of a Highway 90 crash, waived preliminary hearing on the felony charge and was granted a request for another continuance on misdemeanor charges in a Monday night hearing before Justice of the Peace Donald Corr.

Five members of the dead boy's family were critically injured in the Sept. 1 accident when Mitchell, driving a truck east on Highway 90 crashed into the side of an automobile driven by Mrs. Ophelia Singleton, 42, of Bay St. Louis. The Singleton vehicle was stopped at the median waiting to cross the highway.

Passengers in the Singleton car besides Gregory were his brothers Edward, 13, Jeffrey, 11 and Bennie, 7, and Mrs. Carrie Wilkerson, 73. All were taken to Hancock General Hospital by Riemann Fahey ambulance where they were admitted in critical condition. Mitchell was treated at the hospital for a severe laceration of the knee.

Gregory died shortly after arriving at Hancock hospital and his mother and two brothers were transferred to Howard Memorial Hospital in Biloxi, where they are still confined. Another brother, Jeffrey, was transferred to Gulfport Memorial Hospital with internal injuries requiring surgery.

Investigating officer was Highway Safety Patrolman Ray Collins, who was assisted by Highway Patrolman Herschal Ladner as well as units of the Bay police and fire departments, Hancock sheriff's deputies and county constables.

In the Monday night hearing, Mitchell's attorney Howard McDonald requested a continuance for the third time on charges of driving under the influence of intoxicating beverage and an expired brake tag brought against Mitchell.

The defendant was still suffering from effects of the accident, McDonald said, and his physician, Dr. John Levens, had advised that Mitchell was not yet well enough to testify. Although there was no supportive evidence for the doctor's statement, Judge Corr granted the continuance. A hearing was set for Sept. 20.

Mrs. Singleton, who was cited for obstructing traffic, was still in the intensive care unit of the hospital and was unable to attend the hearing.

(This will be a sometimes column. Sometimes mine, sometimes a guest thing, sometimes it won't appear at all. Mostly, it will be dialogues with my friend Sam, who is here and there and everywhere, living the kind of life we'd all like to, but can't. But whenever and whatever, the column will always be the long and Shortle of it)

Dear Sam,

The most amazing ecological crisis is developing near here, which is causing no end of consternation among the residents of a section bordered by Watts Bayou (or Bayou Gallere) and Jourdan River.

Although living outside of the Bay and Waveland city limits, these citizens have discovered that they are receiving unexpected free flowing benefits from the city.

Well, on second thought, they are free, but not so flowing. A rather wide assortment of matter from Bay St. Louis homes is being directed, via an oxidation pond which sort of rearranges things like a giant blender, into the bayou. The resultant benefits one gentleman has described as an "unsanitary and violently polluting deposit stinking morass of green algae and a fish kill accompanied by nauseating odors." Isn't that colorful?

It all started when Bay St. Louis installed a sewer system some years ago and these concerned citizens are afraid it will all end in a disastrous crescendo when Waveland installs a treatment plant for its sewer system (if it is ever completed). All ponds seem to lead to the Bay of St. Louis, depositing gifts along the way.

Some residents have described the situation in even more colorful terms which I am not at liberty to repeat here. Appeals have been made to the two city councils, the county board of supervisors and various federal agencies to halt the flow of fringe benefits. However, they continue to arrive with alarming regularity, especially when the tide is high and the rainfall heavy.

Reactions among recipients have varied from sealing all doors and windows to practicing shallow breathing to evacuation of the area.

The Board of Health did its part by closing the productive oyster reefs in the Bay to commercial fishermen, and Tom Cain got a lovely letter of condolence from Tommy Gingles with the state Air and Water Pollution Control Comm., who said neat things like "our investigations have provided considerable insight of the situation", and "we are actively pursuing a course of action". He also pledged " . . . continuing best efforts to stay on top of the situation" which I think is a dubious position considering the fact that that is where the problem lies - on top. Of course, Mr. Gingles' letter was dated December 10, 1971 and nothing has been heard from him since.

Anyway, the very best solution, or combination thereof, has come from a sympathetic friend who does not live in the affected area but who is definitely "on top of the situation".

An imaginative person, he has offered the following suggestions:

Waveland could institute the "looped sewer system". This means that subscribers would be able to have all sorts of interesting variations to a somewhat normal and boring routine. for example Sewage donated to the sewerage system could be returned on demand. Donors would be permitted to inspect neighbors' sewage on its innumerable passages through the system. low land back-up area subscribers would receive almost constant bonus payments with codes of interest. Plus, as an added goodie.

If the lagoon is closed. (by orders EPA) imagine the run in local stores. 1. Corks. 2. Metal-wooden bungs. 3. Bay of St. Louis - Gulf of Mexico - Mississippi Sound-reaching lengths of plastic hoses complete with funnels and pressure relief valves. 4. Plastic garbage bags with wire twist tops.

A dollar spent stocking up now may lead to immense wealth on resale later.

The last I heard, the beleaguered group has organized and I think an insurrection is imminent. I'll keep you posted.

By the way, where in the world are YOU?

Government 'Strangling Hospitals' Is Claim

Mississippi hospital officials are becoming deeply concerned over their ability to protect the right of patients to quality hospital services.

Interference of the federal economic stabilization program is cited by William K. Ray, chairman of the Mississippi Hospital Association, as the prime factor in frustrating hospitals' efforts to provide continually improved services. Ray is also executive director of the Northwest Mississippi Regional Medical Center, Clarksdale.

"The government is slowly but successfully strangling health services in the Magnolia State," said Ray at a recent meeting of the MHA Board of Governors. The bad part "of the sea of troubles surrounding hospitals" he noted, "is the longer these economic controls are extended, the more severe will be the damage." Ray pointed out that the effects of this damage may not be fully realized until 1975.

Working capital, equipment needs and the ability to grow are areas reported by members of the MHA board as starting to feel the impact of controls. Ray pointed out that current fiscal data on Mississippi hospitals having less than 100 beds, which includes the majority of institutions, shows the average hospital losing $6.04 for every day of patient care it renders.

Local Youths Charged With Burglary

About half of some $160 in collector's item currency and out-of-mint coins stolen from a Springwood Park resident was recovered by the Hancock County sheriff's department following the Sept. 3 arrest of four juvenile brothers and a 19-year-old companion.

Earlier that day Herbert Barbertt notified the sheriff's department that burglars had broken into his Springwood Park home sometime Sunday and the money stolen from a locked closet. Barbertt told investigating sheriff's deputy Lathon Garriga that he had been collecting the currency over a period of time and the actual value of the currency was considerably more than the $160 face value.

Arrested in connection with the theft were four juvenile brothers - a 15-year-old, a 14-year-old and two 13-year-olds - and Calvin Dumas, 19. The five youths were charged with burglary and an additional charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors was brought against Dumas. All five are neighbors of the Barbertts.

A quantity of the coins and bills had been spent in various area stores as well as at a New Orleans store. Garriga managed to recover $84 in bills and $4.01 in coins.

Dumas was confined to Hancock County jail under $5,000 bond pending a hearing before Justice of the Peace Lee Klein. The juveniles were turned over to youth court authorities for further action.

The purpose of the computer network includes providing appropriate equipment with accompanying efforts, so as to allow each participating institution to become more aware of the academic implications of computers with the ultimate goal of profoundly affecting basic curricula.

The program will have a markedly positive result provided the colleges in the network find it educationally advantageous to reconstruct curriculum content so as to make it possible for students to use computers at appropriate points in the course. The network involves fifty-seven faculty members from

Jackson State and the participating institutions, most of whom have commitments of release time from their institutions to insure efficient use and proper operation of the total of sixteen terminals accessing the Jackson State System. The profile of the faculty covers thirteen disciplines. The project is under the direction of Dr. Jesse C. Lewis, director of the Jackson State College computer center.

Food Stamp Program Questions Answered

(This column is prepared by the Food Assistance Division in cooperation with the Informational Services Unit of the Mississippi State Department of Public Welfare, Max M. Cole, Commissioner)

Q. Who May Apply for Food Stamps?

A. Actually, anyone can apply. Usually, it is those families who receive public assistance (welfare checks), families where the wage earner is working part-time or for low wages; families where the wage earners are unemployed; families that receive Social Security benefits or other types of pensions, etc.

Q. Is There a Limit on the Amount of Income a Person or Family May Have?

A. YES. A person living by himself cannot have more than $143 a month net income. This means that he may actually have more than this but by the time deductions are made for excessive rent or house notes, utility bills or medical expenses, he could qualify for food stamps. A two (2) member household cannot have over $240 a month net income; a three (3) member household $313 net income; a four (4) member household $387; a five (5) member household $460 net income; a six (6) member household $533 net income; a seven (7) member household $600 net income; an eight (8) member household $667 net income. For a household membership above eight people, add $53 for each extra person. EX-CEPTION: There is no limit on the amount of income a public assistance household (one where everybody is included in a welfare check) can have.

Remember, we are trying to answer these questions in a general way and that when a person applies for food stamps his individual situation is considered. If you think you may be eligible to receive food stamps please contact your local Welfare Department. They will be happy to talk with you.

County Road Hazards Told

A 15 percent increase in traffic deaths on county roads in Mississippi over the past year has caused the president of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation to remind motorists to use extra caution on the rural road system.

Hugh M. Arant, Ruleville, speaking for the federation, pointed out that as motorists become accustomed to traveling at higher rates of speed they tend to forget that county road systems are vastly different from major highways and interstate roadways.

"Switching from a high speed, spacious interstate to state or county roads means switching mental attitude immediately," Arant said, "or a serious accident may result." Already 130 persons have died in traffic accidents on the state's county road system.

Interstates with multiple lanes, moderate grades and curves, no intersections, and other high speed and safety features oftentimes lull the motorists into false feelings of security, and even on those thoroughfares.

Then the switch to the county system suddenly brings on such additional hazards as sudden stops, narrow bridges, loose gravel, pot holes, blind intersections, inadequately marked curves, sudden appearance of rail crossings, livestock or slow moving equipment on the roads, and others.

Picture-Taking Tips

For advice on how to take good snapshots, ask a teenager. Still photography and movie-making have caught on big with these young people and the result is a flood of photos of whom is Rebecca Sue Jones of Boise, Idaho, who has won a $1,000 scholarship in the Kodak Junior-Miss Photo Awards.

Like many of her peers, Becky views photography as a means to express herself. "It's an artistic outlet," she says, "a wonderful way to preserve memories and a skill. There's great personal satisfaction in realizing you can do it well."

For best results, she offers these tips:

- Know your equipment.
- Read the instruction manual that came with it.
- Hold the camera steady.
- Keep it handy for unexpected snapshots.
- Try for simple backgrounds like sky.

Goodwill Antiques Show To Open In Jackson

The Women's Auxiliary to Goodwill Industries, Inc. will present the Jackson Antiques Show and Sale featuring exhibitors from throughout the United States Sept. 18.

The show, to be housed in the Olympic and Victory rooms of the Hotel Heidelberg, will be open Tuesday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m., and continue for the same hours on Wednesday and Thursday, closing at 6 p.m. Thursday, September 20th.

An educational opportunity, as well as a collector's dream, the show will range from French period pieces to Oriental objects d'art, American folk sculpture, primitive country pieces, English traditional furnishings, and much more.

Of particular interest will be the display of American folk sculpture, including weather-vanes, decoys, tradesmen's signs, ship figureheads and religious figures. This is but one example of the many types of antiques to be displayed, ranging in interest and price from the very rare to the more recently collectible.

The show and sale, benefiting Goodwill Industries through the work done by the Auxiliary for the plant and its employees, will be opened by a gallery talk featuring Edward Vason Jones, consultant to the White House, and currently consultant to the restoration of the Mississippi Governor's Mansion. The lecture co-sponsored by the Gallery Guild will begin at 10 a.m. on Tuesday. Admission will be by ticket at $2.50 per person.

A Young Collectors Night will be held September 19 in the Victory and Olympic rooms from 7-9 p.m. At this event dealers will feature quality antiques priced at under $100.

Tickets for the show and sale may be purchased only at the door.

'News Stories Misleading' Overby Says

Elmo Overby, President of the Mississippi Association of Supervisors, says he feels news stories on legislative support of the county unit system have been misleading.

According to a report, 75 percent of the legislators replying to a questionnaire favored the county unit system, but unless the story was read in its entirety, it would not be known that only 30 percent of the legislators replied to the questionnaire, and 75 of 90 percent is considerably less than 75 percent of the legislature.

"We're not saying that a county unit system is all bad or all good. What would work very well in some of the larger counties might be impossible for a small county such as mine (Calhoun), or some of the others with even less assessed valuation. We do object to the legislature making it mandatory."

"At a recent state-wide meeting in Jackson, I heard a recently retired state department head say that the separation of the offices of sheriff and tax collector had cost the taxpayers of the state over $4 million. This cost has fallen heavily on the smaller counties."

Overby added that there have not yet been any concrete figures presented as to the cost of implementing the county unit system. This is one thing legislators, supervisors and taxpayers need to know, he concluded.

Cash Checks To Avoid Loss

Social Security checks should be cashed within reasonable time to prevent loss or theft, even though there's no time limit on cashing them, according to Mary Ann Farmer, social security representative in Gulfport.

"If your check is lost or stolen, get in touch with your nearest social security office at once," Mrs. Farmer said. "The check can be replaced, but it takes time. Handle your check carefully when you get it and you won't have to wait while it's being replaced."

Social security pays over $4 billion a month in benefit checks to almost 29 million people -- eligible retired and disabled workers and their families and families of deceased workers who worked long enough under social security.

The Gulfport social security office is at 02075 Pass Road. The phone number is WX-1323.

The Gulf Coast's Newest Attraction

The newest attraction on Mississippi's Golden Gulf is the sternwheeler MAGNOLIA BLOSSOM. She is an authentic riverboat, reminiscent of the days when the mighty Mississippi was the life giving artery to king cotton, riverboat gamblers' and the magnificent tales of Mark Twain.

Thoughts of Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer are bound to flit through one's mind as they view this scale reproduction of the majestic vessels that once plied the mighty river.

The MAGNOLIA BLOSSOM was constructed by the same company that built the "Big Mamma" of the Mississippi, the SPRAGUE, nearly 100 years ago, and is a permanent attraction of the Old Place Plantation in Gautier, Mississippi.

Fully Coast Guard approved and glass enclosed, the 150-passenger vessel operates year around. Each day it makes four, two-hour, trips up the famous Pascagoula River. It is also available for private charter day or night.

Visitors aboard the excursion boat are treated to a combination of the old and the new with the romantic legend of the "singing" Pascagoula River, a stop at the Old Spanish Fort Museum, a view of the raised Union Gunboat CAIRO, and trips through the bustling Port of Pascagoula and the fantastic Ingalls Shipyard of the Future.

The things surrounding the MAGNOLIA BLOSSOM have fascinating stories of their own. The Pascagoula, often called the "singing River," is, according to legend, involved in the mysterious extinction of the Pascagoula Indians.

The popular legend is that hundreds of years ago, the princess of the war-like Biloxi Indian Tribe, fell in love with the young chieftain of the Pascagoula. Although she was already betrothed to a chieftain of her own people, she fled with her lover to his tribe, and so enraged the spurned Biloxi chieftain that he led his warriors against the peace-loving Pascagoula tribe.

Sensing the defeat of his people at the hands of the neighboring Biloxi, the young Pascagoula chieftain offered himself as atonement. His people followed the two lovers into the river, however, choosing to drown rather than subject themselves to the Biloxi Indians. Marching into the river, they sang their death chant until silenced by the dark waters.

For those receptive to such lore, the legend goes one step farther... a phenomenon which, literally, must be heard to be believed. Under favorable conditions the waters release a mournful music, likened to the buzz of a swarm of bees in flight, to a brisk Gulf breeze whistling through a thicket, or to a tremulous hum. No scientific explanation for this phenomenon has yet been accepted by the people who have heard it... the majority preferring to believe it is the dirge of the drowning Pascagoula.

Today, it is difficult to find places along the river calm or isolated enough to allow the singing to be detected. The river sounds of the twentieth century tend to muffle away the singing of the river's more placid era. Now there is the buzz and clang of activity at the sprawling Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation, which flanks the east and west banks of the Pascagoula's mouth. There is the rumble of other waterfront industries, and the characteristic noise of the bustling Port of Pascagoula, the state's largest. Industrialization has pushed the legendary waters upriver to the bends of swamps and cypress knees—and aged magnolias with their beads of Spanish moss. But that is another story.

Despite the skeptics or the encroachment of modern day industry, anyone would have a hard time convincing the older Pascagoula families and many tourists that the river doesn't still sing, or at least hum.

All of these offerings of today and tomorrow, and more, can be yours, with a cruise aboard the MAGNOLIA BLOSSOM and a never to be forgotten visit to its home port, Old Place Plantation, located on U.S. 90 at the Pascagoula River in Gautier, Mississippi.

The challenge and the reward of Industrial Electronics: Can you cut it?

If you can honestly answer YES to these four questions, we can start you on a high-paying electronics career.

- Would you stick to the hard work involved in a year and a half of intensive electronics training, provided that there's a career waiting for you at the end of it?
- Do you enjoy tackling a tough problem—maybe after other people have walked away from it?
- Is it important to you that work be interesting as well as high paying?
- Are you willing to go where the action is: New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Dallas, Houston, Atlanta? or even farther? Right now, while you're reading this, good electronics jobs are open and waiting. There's a continuing need for men with the training and the gumption to handle them.

INDUSTRY'S NEWEST OPPORTUNITIES
We're talking about the instrumentation technician who has co-responsibility with the electrical engineer for the operation of an automated refinery. The industrial electronics technician who can trouble-shoot an automated quality control system in a food plant—and fix it.

We mean the man who implements the plan; supervises the electricians; does the electronic equipment buying. The man who travels to conferences and conventions to represent his company. We're talking about managerial material.

THE PROBLEM OF SELF-DOUBT—AND HOW TO LICK IT.
It sounds a little rich for your blood? You might be surprised at what you can do, given the self-confidence that comes from thorough, intensive training. You'll know you can do it, because you've done it. At Phillips. On the same ultra-modern types of equipment.

On most jobs, you start as assistant to the man in charge, a trained, experienced man who knows that you need to "get your feet wet." Then, as your Phillips training enables you to "take hold", you'll find yourself handling more responsibility—and getting more money. It's a good feeling.

An executive of one of the nation's largest industries—a company you know—has told us that they honestly do not know where they are going to find the men to handle the instrumentation and control positions they must fill next year. Somebody's got to do it. Why not you?

If you think you can, call our Admissions Representative. Make an appointment to visit Phillips College. Meet our instructors. Let them show you the equipment you'll be working and learning on.

ARE FINANCES A PROBLEM?

If they are, tell us. We've got plans that will see you completely through your program, including Federal-insured student loans. Interest is only 7%, and it's interest-free until after you finish. You need pay nothing back until 12 months after you finish; you'll be working on your new job.

Don't let anything stand in your way. If you think you can do it, act now. Class size is limited.

Call 863-2803 and ask for our Admissions Representative. Out of town, call collect: AC 601

CONGRESSIONAL TEAMWORK
If Congress is really the fourth quarter team President Nixon thinks we are, it's high time we start running with the ball instead of punting.

He could have been right last week when he held out hope that Congress will rally in the closing moments of this session, but if half-time statistics are any indication we could easily head for the showers in December without a clear-cut victory.

This is not to say that we failed to work up a sweat in the first eight months of this session. I'm simply saying that, when the dust had settled last month for the annual August recess, we still had a lot of legislative ground to cover.

It's true that we registered a staggering number of recorded votes and were frequently meeting at night, but the fact remains that we dodged some of the crucial issues. We simply pitched the ball to the President and expected him to score without effective blocking from the Congress.

In short, we have our work cut out for us during the closing months of this session. There are a wide range of issues crying for congressional attention.

Take, for example, the burning issue of inflation. One of these days Congress is going to wake up and discover that controls and guidelines are useless if federal spending goes unchecked.

Consider, if you will, the sobering fact that Congress is currently studying legislation which would, if enacted, exceed the federal budget by some six million dollars! How can we expect to fight inflation with our right hand while our left is throwing money to the wind?

If inflation is currently the hottest issue in the country, certainly the defense of our country is the perennial top priority. As some of my colleagues look at it, however, the way to balance our budget is to add to the domestic budget as the mood strikes us, and then take it out of the defense funds.

In other words, let's take our defense off the field and hope that our eloquent quarterback can talk the other team out of scoring.

It just doesn't make sense to sacrifice the defense of this country for the sake of a few well-oiled domestic programs. We can have the finest domestic programs in the world but it isn't going to make any difference if we're not around to enjoy them.

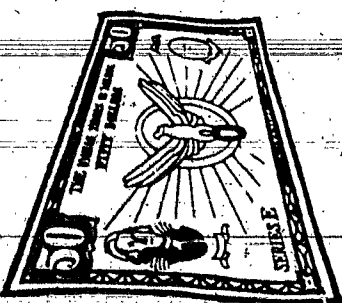

Finally, Congress must come to grips with the energy crisis. Next year might be too late for action if we skirt the issue again this year.

We must build the Alaska pipeline for one thing. And, certainly, we must continue to press for other sources of energy. Congress - not just the oil companies - must act soon if we are to avoid another serious energy crisis next summer.

There is the possibility, of course, that Congress may fail to act on some of these issues. But I can tell you one thing: every Member of Congress got the message last month from his constituents. The people of this country are deeply concerned about the economy and about the energy crisis. The pressure is on the Congress. We're running out of time in this session and we can't afford to punt again.

We've got to pick up the ball and move it if we want to regain some of the ground Congress has forfeited in the past and score.

Dear Sir:

As a member of the Bay-Waveland Humane Society, I wish to comment on some of my experiences in the activities, which often present some sorry and pathetic problems. We've often heard of "mans inhumanity to man," but when I hear of remarks such as: "There are many humans, especially children, suffering and in need." Of course this is true, we are aware of it. This connotation is irrelevant and out of order, as we are working strictly with animals; as God gave man the superior mental processes to whom our animal species, have to look up to for care and kindness. It is usually people who dislike animals, make such remarks.

There are many who ask our help, when in need or distress, yet are extremely negative, when it comes to helping us, however there are many sympathetic and cooperative humans. Thank God for their kindness and contributions as we hope to expand this essential work for our dumb beasts. Before closing I must add there are State Anti-Cruelty Laws - No. 2067 - 2068 and 2070. Anyone caught, burying or cutting up live animals, could be reported to us, and we could prosecute these barbarian violators to the full extent of the law.

Thanking you for publication,
Mrs. Eleanor Everett McFee, Sec.

THE REAL LOSER

Report from capitol

Senator James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) has called for federal action to halt the steadily-increasing number of police deaths.

Eastland appealed for public support to insure passage of his bill to make it a federal crime to attack a policeman. The remarks were contained in the cover story of the nationally circulated "Police Digest". Eastland's article was headlined "Cold-Blooded Killing of Nation's Police Must Cease."

"It is my belief that there is one way - and only one way - to stem the crime wave in America," Eastland said. "That way is to insure swift, stern and certain punishment for those guilty of breaking the law."

Eastland said the criminal must know "beyond a shadow of a doubt" that he will be punished if he breaks the law. "He must be made to know he faces a police officer who has the unequal support of the public, the Congress, the Courts and the law," the Senator said.

"The criminal must have before him the unmistakable evidence if he breaks the law he will surely stand before a judge and a court that believe in punishment as well as crime. He must be finally and firmly convinced that if he breaks the law he will surely and certainly - and swiftly - sit in a prison cell to pay a full and complete debt to society."

Eastland pointed out that police deaths are increasing at "an alarming rate." He said FBI statistics show that 78 officers were killed in the line of duty in the first six months of this year - compared to 63 during the first half of 1972.

"If the present trend continues," Eastland said, "the number of policemen killed in 1973 will increase by nearly 40 percent."

The Senator pointed out that in the past six years 564 lawmen have been killed - and since 1970, more than 100 officers have died each year. Of the officers killed so far this year, 40 - or over half - have been killed in the South.

The Senator's bill would make it a federal crime to attack, kill or injure a policeman or encourage anyone to do so. It would also ban the making of weapons to be used in attacks on officers - or the transporting of such devices across state lines.

The legislation would be backed up by the death sentence - or the transporting of such devices across state lines.

The legislation would be backed up by the death sentence - with the government authorized to pay $50,000 for information in such cases.

"I am confident this legislation - once enacted into law - will go a long way toward winning the war that our nation's law enforcement officers are now fighting. I know it would save lives of policemen - and restore confidence in America," Eastland said.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

The recent hurricane threat which eventually wound up in Galveston, Texas, reminded us of what was probably the worst disaster ever suffered by the Gulf Coast, the high wind and especially the flood which hit the Texas city in 1900.

Galveston lies on a narrow, 25-mile-long beach, and at the time of the flood it was well built up with hundreds of small, light homes, stores and business places. When the high winds of almost hurricane force came on this September day, the citizens thought they were getting off pretty lightly with a few collapsed or de-roofed buildings. But the winds had been pushing the water in the bay into a tidal wave which hit the city almost without warning. Protection against high tides along the shore was sketchy, at best, and when the wave struck the beach it simply swept the shore clean of every obstruction, piling up debris fifty feet high on the lee of the island. An estimated six thousand persons were killed.

When the city had buried its dead, it built a seawall strong enough to fend off tidal waters.

Closer to home, a terrific hurricane and accompanying tidal wave swept the vacation resort of Last Island in Louisiana, destroying the popular hotel and killing more than two hundred vacationers. The famous author, Lafcadio Hearn, gave a gripping description of the tragedy in his novel, Chita. Even more recently the hurricane Betsy caused terrific damage in New Orleans, and of course, everyone is familiar with the destruction of life and property in our own community by the hurricane called Camille.

Man continues a losing battle with natural disasters such as hurricanes, floods, fires and earthquakes, but while he has not succeeded in controlling these visitations, he has developed warnings and fighting equipment and technique which have done some good and have saved some lives.

One of our earliest memories is of another great disaster, the Johnstown, Pa., flood of 1889. Not that we are quite that old, but on the tenth anniversary of this great catastrophe, we saw a simulation of it with lights and rolling waters and collapsing buildings, on the site where real waves and crumbling structures had spelled death to more than 2000 people just a decade previously. The Johnstown flood was caused by a collapsing dam after weeks of heavy rains; one might think that this type of disaster could be avoided after such an example, but the pages of modern history are sprinkled with accounts of similar disasters.

Our scientists are constantly striving to outwit Nature, and sometimes they succeed, but Camille is still too fresh in our memories to allow us to award Man the palm.

ELIGIBILITY FOR HOSPITAL AND DOMICILIARY BENEFITS

Eligibility for a pension is based on time served by an individual during war times. The minimum time that can be served to be eligible for a non-service connected pension is ninety (90) days.

Eligibility for hospitalization does not have a length of service requirement and just recently the Veterans Administration has broadened medical treatment to any veteran with an honorable discharge, whether he was in during war time or peace time.

The administrator, within the limits of Veterans Administration facilities may furnish hospital care, which he determines is needed, to any veteran for a non-service connected disability, if he is unable to pay for hospitalization elsewhere.

The veteran will be required to take an oath that he is unable to pay unless he is already drawing a pension or is over 65 years of age, in which case the oath is not required.

Senator Vance Hartke, Chairman of the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee said in a floor statement recently, "A vast number of veterans, who do not join veterans organizations, really get a free ride on veterans benefits. Of the 23 million veterans in America, less than seven million belong to organized veterans groups, which are chartered by Congress and which act as effective spokesmen for the whole roster of former servicemen.

The organized veterans provide the only real representation, the only forum, the only real say in which is accomplished at the federal level. Seldom does the non-joiner give the veterans group a second thought. Content with his benefits, he pays no credit to those who gained them. We have all heard the term professional veteran. That should be in the realm of a compliment. It takes a professional to win something. The organized groups have worked long and hard in the veterans behalf, and they continue to insist, from Capitol Hill to the State Houses, on assistance, better hospital care, and rightful benefits."

Effective August 1, 1973 a veteran of any war who dies and is eligible for the $250 burial allowance and is not buried in a National Cemetery or other cemetery under the jurisdiction of the United States may be paid an additional amount not to exceed $150 to pay for a burial plot. This amount will be payable to the person or entity who incurred the expenses. In addition to the proper claim form, the claimant must present a paid receipt from the cemetery owner showing the name of the deceased veteran and the nature of the cost of services rendered and the unpaid balance, if any.

Christmas Seal Drive Discussed

Mississippi Lung Association met August 21 at Primos' North Gate Restaurant, Jackson. A large group of delegates from surrounding counties in the area joined the Hancock County Chapter in discussing the coming Christmas Seal Campaign. Volunteers also discussed the Association's ever-expanding program in the field of respiratory disease, such as emphysema, chronic bronchitis, asthma and tuberculosis and their role in this program.

During the meeting, a progress report on medical education and research programs, conducted by the Christmas Seal Professor of Respiratory disease at the University of Mississippi Medical School, Jackson, was presented. The program also included portunity to appear in Seventeen Magazine for Fashion Institute of America, a wardrobe costume jewelry by Tacos Jewelry, an all-expense jet sea cruise to the Holy Land and five countries, a 10 x 20 color portrait including frame by Gene Boaz, a wardrobe of Surfboards Casual Footwear by Intermark Shoe Company, a gold watch, White Stag summer beach wear by Speedo, a trip to California and Disneyland, a three-foot trophy and a bouquet of roses.

discussion of plans for use of campaign materials, including 1973 Christmas seals, posters and displays. Health Education materials and films for schools and other educational projects were previewed. A total of four District meetings will be held this year, one in each section of the state. Other meetings will be held in Hattiesburg, Tupelo and Grenada.

Mrs. Elda Duke, Hancock County Chairman, and a member of the Board of Directors of the tri-county advisory board, attended the meeting.

Bomb Threats Investigated

Bogus bomb threats at two coast area schools were investigated in the last week by law enforcement officials and school authorities. Shortly after 9 a.m. on Sept. 4 a call from an unidentified person sent sheriff's deputies to Hancock North Central School near the White Cypress area in Hancock County. The school was evacuated and a thorough search of the building and grounds produced nothing.

About 8 a.m. Tuesday morning a similar call was received by Mrs. Sydney Ellis at Coast Episcopal High School in Pass Christian. Harrison County sheriff's deputies, Pass Christian police and firemen and members of the Long Beach Explosive Ordnance Disposal Squad searched the school building and surrounding area for some 25 minutes before faculty and students were allowed in the building. Mrs. Ellis said that the caller sounded like an elderly woman.

State Group Opposes Rules

The Mississippi Manufacturers Association, recognized as the voice of Mississippi industry in public affairs, went on record in a public hearing in Atlanta Sept. 4 in opposition to any plan by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) that would apply a concept of preventing "significant deterioration" of air quality in areas where the air is already cleaner than required by Federal standards.

MMA said it will continue to work toward maintaining air quality while encouraging the full economic growth and progress desired and needed by all citizens of Mississippi, but that a plan based on an arbitrary national standard applying the concept of "significant deterioration" will cause underdeveloped areas to remain underdeveloped at the expense of forcing industrial and economic growth back into the more highly developed and populated areas. MMA contended Mississippi has made much progress, but such plans would have the effect of halting social and economic growth in the State. The hearing in Atlanta was one of five held throughout the country by EPA to get public input regarding four proposals submitted by the Federal agency toward compliance with a Supreme Court ruling in a suit brought by the Sierra Club, an environmentalist group, to prevent any further deterioration of air quality in the United States. Other hearings were held in Washington, Dallas, Denver and San Francisco.

Mental Health Center Gets NIMH Grant

Gulf Coast Mental Health Center has received a continuation of its staffing grant from the National Institute of Mental Health, Dr. G. Kinsey Stewart, Director, announced.

The grant, effective September 1, is for the Center's fourth year of operation. Federal funds for the fourth year amount to 45 percent of the salaries for the professional staff and do not cover administrative costs.

Funding began on September 1, 1970, covering an eight-year decreasing grant period. Matching funds for staff and operating expenses are obtained from local county taxes, the United Fund and fees for services on a sliding scale basis.

Dr. Ray Cox has served as coordinator for Hancock County since May 1971. Beginning last March Tom Dilworth, psychologist, has also served in the county. Additional staff members work on special projects in Hancock County.

Since it began, the Center has provided six basic services. In the area of consultation-education, the staff works cooperatively with schools, clergy, physicians, law enforcement and other agencies.

The out-patient service provides evaluations and treatment of mental and emotional illness. In-patient service is the limited utilization of hospitals for temporary care.

Day treatment is a rehabilitation program for those needing more extended care than out-patient but less than in-patient.

After-care is the follow-up of returning patients, in cooperation with State hospitals and the Health Department. Crisis intervention offers available help with crisis situations whenever these occur.

A total of 3,028 new cases have been opened to date. The requests for services have averaged approximately 100 a month.

In its three years of operation, the Center staff has provided psychological evaluations for children being considered for special education classes. In Hancock, Stone and Pearl River Counties the staff, assisted by local volunteers, screen first-grade students in several school districts to determine their strengths and weaknesses. This information is used with the parents and teachers in planning for the youngster.

The Center is also the grantee agency for an Initiation and Development Drug Abuse Project, which began June 1 and will continue for a 12-month period.

The objectives of this project are to provide a measure of the extent, nature and frequency of drug abuse in Harrison, Hancock, Stone and Pearl River Counties; to identify and define existing services; and to design and implement a broad range community drug abuse service project. The grant was awarded by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's public health service.

An alcoholism coordinator is actively engaged in planning for a grant request to establish an expanded program for alcoholics.

The Center is located in a suite of offices in the Harrison County Health Department at Gulfport. The new Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center, located across the street from Memorial Hospital in Gulfport, will be completed late this year.

Milk Suppliers Coming Up Short

There isn't enough locally produced milk to go around these days.

As a result, Southeastern states are feeling the pinch of this short milk supply situation...about 605,000 gallons worth this week.

All transportation available is being used by Dairymen, Inc., a Louisville-based dairy farmer-marketing cooperative, to bring this additional milk into the southeast from the high milk-producing states in the Midwest.

The amount of milk ordered for bottling purposes for handlers regularly supplied by Dairymen, Inc. during the week of September 9-16 is so high that the supplies available locally are approximately 110 over-the-road tankers—or 605,000 gallons—short of the needed amount.

Shortage of transportation equipment for hauling milk along with the difficulty of finding additional milk may make it impossible to fulfill all of the needs in the Southeast for this week, according to Ben F. Morgan, Jr.

Executive vice-president and general manager of Dairymen, Inc.

He pointed out that every effort is being made to secure sufficient supplies so that there will be no shortage of bottled milk.

The re-opening of schools has contributed significantly to the unusually heavy demand for milk and dairy products.

This is coupled with declining milk production nationally over the past 10 months, as rising feed, labor, and equipment costs are forcing dairy farmers to leave the industry in ever increasing numbers in favor of more attractive agricultural opportunities. Milk price increases to dairy farmers to date have been unable to keep up with these skyrocketing costs.

It is hoped that milk price increases to dairy farmers scheduled to become effective October 1, will help keep milk supplied at a level adequate to meet consumer demands, Morgan said.

Still Time To Plant

Spring is not the only time to enjoy the fruits of a garden. There's still time to plant more than a dozen vegetables. Plant vegetables which do best during cool weather—the ones which can withstand light frosts, say J. T. Garrett, leader of Extension Horticulture.

"Some gardens can still grow a crop of bush snap beans," Garrett said. "If the normal first frost date is more than 55 days away, you can still have beans fresh from the garden. Beans cannot withstand a frost, but sometimes the first cold snap is not severe enough to do extensive damage and the chances are worth a try. Late beans are of good quality and are good for canning or freezing."

Now is the time to plant beets, Swiss chard, Chinese cabbage, collards and head lettuce. Baby beets in the fall garden have excellent quality. They thrive in the cooler fall temperature and provide another chance at preserving a good product. These crops should be planted before October. People in north Mississippi should plant them by mid-September.

Other vegetables which can be planted now are carrots, leaf lettuce, mustard, parsley, turnips and kale. Tender, fresh greens are not only tasty in winter months, but contribute to a nutritious diet. Plant carrots and parsley by early October, the others by November.

"And don't forget to plant some onions and radishes to add zest to your late fall salads," Garrett added. "Radishes require less than a month to be ready for the table, and, fresh green onions add that little something extra."

Fall is the time to plant asparagus crowns. Wait until after the middle of October to plant for the best results.

It's money down the drain.

A leaky hot water faucet might seem like a small nuisance... but actually, it's a big waste of water and fuel. A drip once per second can waste over 200 gallons of hot water in a month, and you pay for it. Your Electric Power Association wants you to use electric power wisely, and that's simply a matter of taking care of the little things like leaky hot water faucets, light bulbs left on that nobody needs... things like this all add up. For a free booklet on how to use electricity more efficiently—and save yourself money—just visit our office, or write us.

Meeting Date Changed

St. Ann's Altar Society met Monday night in the Parish Hall with Mrs. Michael Schmitt, president, conducting the business session.

It was announced the date for this month's luncheon and social had been changed from September 23 to September 24 at noon in the Parish Hall. Tickets for the affair are available from Mrs. Irene Gaff, chairman, or from any other member.

Rev. Canisus Hayes, pastor, commended the members for their work during the year and asked for their continued cooperation. Father also said he wants to organize a church choir and anyone interested in joining or in playing the organ is asked to contact him.

Following the meeting, a social was held and Father Hayes was honored on the occasion of his birthday.

EXECUTIVES ON LOAN to the Hancock County United Fund for the 1973 campaign are identified by emblems such as the one being pinned on Bay St. Louis attorney Nicholas Haas by Robert Sergeant, chairman of the local United Fund Commercial Division. Haas is in charge of the drive for banks and homesteads. October 4 is official date set for the start of this year's campaign.

FAREWELL PARTY - Mrs. Bertha Augustin is pictured with Fr. Hayes, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church in Clermont Harbor, during a recent reception in her honor. Mrs. Augustin is leaving the area after 50 years of residence in the same home in Clermont.

Reception Honors Mrs. Augustin

A reception honoring Mrs. Bertha Augustin, who is moving to New Orleans, was held last Wednesday afternoon in St. Ann's Parish Hall, Clermont Harbor.

Widow of Carl (Charlie) Augustin, who died in 1963, Mrs. Augustin came to Clermont Harbor from New Orleans as a bride, 50 years ago; she has lived in the same house over the years.

In the 1947 hurricane, in Betsy and Camille her home was severely damaged, but she lived in it while it was being repaired.

She has two children, Mrs. Hertha Brinkmann and Carl Augustin, New Orleans.

The party was hosted by Mmes. Leonard Rupp, Frank Corcoran, Michael Schmitt and John Everard, assisted by other members of the community. Approximately 40 friends and neighbors showered her with gifts and wished her well.

At the conclusion of the reception Father Hayes offered his blessing.

Little Theatre Musical Cancelled

Promises, Promises, scheduled by the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre for October 5, 6, and 12, 13, is cancelled owing to difficulty of obtaining musicians, cast withdrawals, and other production problems.

The play was well into rehearsal when the decision to abandon the production was made.

The musical comedy will be replaced by a play, with performances planned for the end of October. Title of the play and dates will be announced shortly. Meantime sale of season memberships continues. These may be obtained from DeMontuzin's Drugstore, or by calling Mrs. Fred Wagner, membership chairman.

BAIL THE BILGE for Saturday, September 15, will feature a LIFTON VICTORY CELEBRATION honoring all the team, officials, committee workers, and cheering section. A large turn-out is anticipated for this event which will be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Basil Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. Don Chamberlain, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Donohue.

CLUB IMPROVEMENTS are still progressing rapidly under the expert supervision of Vice-Commodore Walter Gehrke. The decorating committee, composed of Mrs. Ada Whitfield, Ethel Baxter, Kinta Maloney and Lynn Parrish, has been busy selecting drapes for the new lounge and dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gehrke have donated a ping-pong table to the yacht club for use in the new Junior Room.

The Fred Eagans have donated a 16-foot fiberglass Lonestar sloop with a new set of sails to the club for the use of the members.

Kay and Mary Kergosien have been appointed Co-Chairmen of the Sail Locker, and will require the full cooperation of all Bay-Waveland skippers and crews to insure that the boats are properly moored and equipment neatly stowed.

The Flying Scots, which had been moved to safe ground for the duration of last week's hurricane threat, are back in their slips at the club. Although the racing program enjoyed a short respite, quite a few sailors were seen out enjoying the brisk winds which held all week-end.

A volunteer Clean-Up Crew of both Junior and Senior Members showed up Saturday and stayed on the job until the grounds were restored to the condition they were in prior to the excessive tides and crowds of Labor Day week-end.

The new Burglar Alarm System is fully operational and has direct contact with the police station. The club has just purchased a public address system which will be installed in the very near future.

Biloxi Yacht Club will host the G.Y.A. Championship Sunfish Regatta on September 15 and 16. Registration is scheduled for 10 a.m.

SKIPPERS MEETING will be at 11:30. 1 p.m. General Warning Gun. 1:30 p.m. Start of First Junior Race. 1:40 p.m. Start of Second Junior Race. The third race is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

DEFENDING CHAMPION for this event is the 1972 Junior Division Winner, Buzzy Heausler of BWYC.

SEPTEMBER 22 - 23 marks the final week-end of record racing for the Junior and A-Class Skippers in the Flying Scots at BWYC.

SEPTEMBER 29 - 30 is the date set for the BWYC Fall Sunfish Regatta.

Tigers Top Stone, First Win In 3 Years

By Edward Favre

Bay High Tigers opened their 1973 football season on a winning note Friday night defeating the Tomcats of Stone County by a score of 6-0. The only score of the game came in the first quarter when Wingback Mac McDonald recovered a fumble in the end zone for six points. The scoring play started when quarterback Mike Magee ran around end on an option play from the one-yard line, fumbled the ball at the goal line and McDonald recovered.

The Tigers put up a good defensive battle against the Tomcats as they allowed Stone High to cross the 50 yard line only one time in the game.

and that was on a fumble recovery.

With two minutes to go in the game Stone recovered a Tiger fumble but the Bay High defense stiffened once again and held the Tomcats. The Tigers took over control of the ball and held it in their possession until the final whistle.

This week the Tigers travel to Pass Christian to play the Pass Christian High Pirates. Tigers are 1-0 in Gulf Coast Conference play after Friday night's game.

Punt, Pass & Kick Rules

Outlined

Registrations for the 1973 Punt, Pass and Kick competition, co-sponsored locally by the Bay St. Louis Jaycees and Charlie Henderson Ford, continue to roll in.

The contest is open to any youngster eight through 13 years of age and is slated for Sept. 29, 9 a.m. at Tiger Stadium.

Any youngster meeting the age requirements who can punt, pass or kick a football — or who'd like to try — will want to compete. Participants compete only against others their own age and there is no body contact.

No special equipment is needed and participation does not impair a youngster's amateur standing. Each youngster will compete in three categories — punting, passing and kicking. Judges will score one point for each foot the ball travels on the fly, minus one point for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of the center tape.

Youngsters, accompanied by a parent or guardian, may register for PP&K at Charlie Henderson Ford. There is no entrance fee. Registration ends Sept. 28.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

The rain, wind and high tides, finally abated last Friday, after a full week of sorry weather for most all types of fishing. Few decent catches were reported. The bad weather was caused by the recent hurricane, Della, which wound up in Texas.

The first segment of the Miss. dove season opened last Saturday in the northern part of the state. Haven't gotten any reports from anyone hunting in the north zone from here. Although according to John Genn who just returned from Ole Miss, plenty doves were noted all the way down.

Doves are migratory birds and come down this way when cooler weather arrives. Should be some shooting later in the open seasons. State Highway-12 running east of Kosciusko is the dividing line for the zone. The dove bag limit is 12 birds daily and a possession limit of 24. There are quite a number of dovehunters locally who are waiting to take to the fields when the split season opens on Sept. 22 to Oct. 14. Two more split seasons will follow.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ristroph and Mr. and Mrs. Luke Elliott of Plaquemine and Baton Rouge have just returned from San Saba, Texas. The men hunted quail, rabbits, doves and squirrels. Game is plentiful in Texas the hunters said. They got their limit of all species.

Three fishermen, Arthur M. Carter, Herbert Toulmes and C. E. "Boogilee" Lovell do a lot of fishing and crabbing. They are always ready to go. Have been getting some fish and crabs under prevailing conditions.

Was told by one fisherman who has just returned from Florida only one claw of a stone crab can be kept for eating. The crab must be thrown back, and a new claw grown. Stone crabs are of good size. There is quite a bit of food in one claw.

Mrs. Alma Dobson, quite a golfer, made her third hole-in-one recently. The average person doesn't make a hole-in-one in a life time. For instance me, who has been playing for 37 years. Mrs. Dobson plays at Pass Christian Isles Golf Club and has been club champion several times. Her husband has one hole-in-one to his credit also.

Believe it or not one local resident who travels to Jackson informed me that so many perch are caught in that section of the state that there machines for scaling them. They operate like pinball machines. Wish we had one down this way. It must make scaling fish a pleasure.

R. E. Call who lives in Waveland and is employed by SECO Industries, Inc., was telling us of the speckle trout which are caught in Lake Pelto in Caledonia, La. Lake Pelto like others nearby, has launching facilities, and boats for rent, everything for the fisherman, food, ice, etc. R. E. said it is an ideal place for salt water fishing. Good any old time. It is south of Houma, La.

In Sunday's Times-Picayune, Sept. 9th was a list of the dates, etc. for the La. Miss. hunting seasons. It is good to secure one, put it in your wallet. Might be handy to have for future reference.

Have been seeing quite a few teal ducks hereabout. The teal season opens this month. There is no special federal permit required this season.

Mississippi will join 48 other states this year to require that all deer hunters wear fluorescent "hunter" orange vests, hats or caps during the open gun season on deer. Hunters who fail to comply with the regulations may be fined up to $25. This color was selected because fluorescent color is the only color easily detected by both persons with normal vision and by those with varying degrees of color sight deficiency.

Miss. Game and Fish

Speckle trout are appearing in Pearl River proper and tributaries, East Middle River and Middle River as well as Little Lake. A few have been caught lately by those fly fishing.

Speckle trout will hit popping bugs and casting lures when they are striking. There should be some good speckle trout fishing in this area when the weather gets cooler.

Trotting for bass should start soon. Next month bass will hit underwater baits. For instance, the Black Gnat, Hwallan Wiggles, etc. Troll along the banks of bayous and rivers. Rebel or Repla plugs are excellent baits for trolling, also.

Fishermen who do mostly casting should pay attention to this hint given by Dick Kotia, President of Fred Arbogast Co., Inc., who makes the "Bait of Champions" and a champion himself who does a lot of fishing.

"I have observed that most fishermen with whom I fish attempt to cast surface lures too far. Accuracy in casting is more important than distance not only because of the method of working the lure, but by keeping your rod high you can keep the line out of the water making the lure more attractive and life-like."

Remember it pays to listen to old timers. You can learn a lot about fishing.

Catching frogs is a lot of fun. There are plenty in our local ponds and road side pools. Try it. You will like it and it helps put meat on the table. Frog legs are good eating if you have never tried them.

Ever notice when cleaning bass (green trout) how many real small crabs and crayfish they have in their stomachs? A good indication that both crabs and crayfish make an excellent bait when still fishing for fresh water fish. They can be caught in most road side ditches and do not cost anything to get. Another good bait is grubs from a wasp nest. Ever try them for perch or bass?

Andrew Bourgeois, better known as Junior, spends all his time either fishing or throwing a cast net for shrimp when they are in season. He caught a few shrimp off the seawall down Cedar Point way the other day.

Good news, speckle trout were again caught off the American Legion pier the first part of this week. They were all nice size. The pier is a wonderful place to catch them when they are running. Colder weather will bring them in.

An ardent fisherman is Helton Dickson, who has built a home in DeLisle. Helton loves all kinds of sports and participates in many. He shares his home and boat with his friends. Playing golf is his specialty. Welcome to the fold, Helton.

Many local dove hunters are anxiously awaiting the opening of the dove season (Southern zone) on Sept. 22. Among them is Junior Fahey who is a dove hunter from way back.

Frank Taconi shrimped from North Beach seawall two nights, caught 13 the first night, about 50 the second night. Must not have been running, Frank.

Vi Cunningham, formerly of Bay St. Louis, more recently of Tampa, Fla., has returned to the coast. Now living in Long Beach, but plans to move back to the Bay. That gal is quite a fisherwoman.

DEGREES CONFERRED

Two Bay St. Louis students were among 668 students who received degrees from the University of Mississippi at summer commencement exercises recently.

Mary Beth Colson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Colson, was graduated with a Bachelor of Business Administration. Lisbet Ann Phillips, daughter of Walter J. Phillips and Mrs. Inger Phillips, was graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology.

Ole Miss Chancellor Porter L. Fortune, Jr., presented the degrees.

"Fisherman Sam" Neglazzio besides catching his share of crabs, has had many nice catches of trout and flounders up to now.

Gerald Kennedy and James Ruhl were said to be looking for Dec Saturday. Don't know how I missed them. Must have been fishing.
